Amherst, Va., June 10.—The June term of the Amherst Circuit Court convened here yesterday. A small crowd was in attendance, this probably being due to the fact that there is a good tobacco season and many farmers were kept away on that account. The geand jury was in session on Monday morning and returned one or two indictments. A number of cases were continued, among them being the cases of N. J. Perkins vs. Western Union Telegraph Co., and Harris vs. Western Union Telegraph Company. There was no political speaking, and politics was not much discussed.
